Guaranteed to last outdoors

Our unique UV engineering ensures that your faux boxwood hedge panels retain their vibrant, green colors even with daily sun exposure. We have a 5-year guarantee on our UV-treated products that promises no cracks or faded colors. Our case studies and clients' feedback will tell you that our green leaves can last much longer, though.

Made with materials that are safe for the environment

Other artificial plants may be constructed from low-quality plastics that contain harmful chemicals, which may put your family's health at risk. But we at Designer plants take your family's health and safety very seriously. Our fake boxwood hedges are made with 100% recyclable materials that are free from harmful chemicals. Our faux plants are ISO, REACH, and ROHS compliant, making them safe for your entire family - including your pets!

Saves time, energy, and water

Real plants require a lot of your precious time and resources. Gardening may be relaxing for many people but, honestly, sometimes it's just too much work. Especially if you work full time, have kids and pets, or are generally a very busy person.

The good news is that your artificial boxwood hedge wall will stay vibrant, green, and fresh-looking even without your help. That means that, no matter what the season, you'll have an elegant green gem boxwood that you can count on.

Here are only some of the advantages of a faux boxwood hedge:

- No need to move your plants outdoors to get some sunlight
- You won't need to pay a gardener to trim your plants when you're away
- You'll save gallons of water
- No fertilizers, pesticides, or other chemical sprays
- Absolutely no trimming or pruning overgrown hedges

- Practically zero maintenance
- You can move your boxwood shrub anywhere with minimal effort
